DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17, 18, 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pinch. The patent to Pinch (figs. 4, 8, 9, 10 teaches structure as claimed including a table comprising a table top constructed from plastic, the table top including a top portion, a bottom portion and a length, an outwardly extending portion that extends outwardly from the bottom portion of the table top, the outwardly extending portion extending along the length of the table top, the outwardly extending portion including a first side wall, a second side wall and an intermediate portion extending between the first side wall and the second side wall, a connector (156) secured to the outwardly extending portion of the table top, the connector being spaced apart from the bottom portion of the table top, the connector comprising a first portion that is sized and configured to abut the intermediate portion of the outwardly extending portion, and a second portion that is sized and configured to abut the first side wall of the outwardly extending portion, a first and second table leg (52) pivotally attached to the connector.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3637

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 12-15, 16, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pinch. The patent to Pinch teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including a connector (156) , the only difference being the length of the connector and the connection of the connector to various structural elements. However, to provide the connector along the entire length of the table and the connection of the connector at various side of the outwardly portion of the table are matters of desirability of how much rigidity and connection is desired which would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-11 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Stanford, Bonham, Price, Tarnay et al, Strong et al, Buono teach structure similar to applicant's.
